

PROMoting Geoscience Research, Education, and Success

RSVP for [AREA]'s PROGRESS workshop!

Society needs women in science and technology. PROGRESS (PROMoting Geoscience Research Education and Success) is a group of professors and scientists who want to make sure everyone can succeed in their pursuit of earth systems and environmental science careers (which includes topics such as the earth, its atmosphere and oceans, energy, air quality, hydrology, climate, water and natural resource management, and natural disaster forecasting). Therefore, we are offering a one-day professional development workshop, for scientists who identify as women where you will meet peers with similar interests in the region, learn more about careers in earth systems and environmental sciences, and expand your professional network. There is no charge to students so that we can be sure that there are no barriers to participation.

For questions, please contact [ORGANIZER NAME + EMAIL].

Please complete the following form to RSVP to attend the in-person PROGRESS workshop.

[DATE] [TIME] [LOCATION]

* Indicates required question

Can you commit to attending a one-day in-person workshop on [DATE]? *

☐ Yes

☐ No

Please enter your full name. *

Your answer

Please enter your school email address. *

Your answer

Which school do you attend? *

☐ [INSTITUTION]

☐ [INSTITUTION 2]

☐ [INSTITUTION 3]

☐ [INSTITUTION 4]

☐ Other: _____

What is your major? *

Your answer

Would you prefer a vegetarian meal at the workshop? *

☐ Yes

☐ No

Do you have any other dietary restrictions that you would like to share with us?

Your answer

Submit

Clear form