

What features do you see in the land forms that might indicate boundaries between tectonic plates?

